2011 MARGARET BAROSSA SEMILLON

The Masters wines are the top tier of Peter Lehmann's original classic Barossa varietals and released with five years bottle age to capture their full potential.

These wines are named after a person or event that has played an intrinsic role in the Peter Lehmann story. Margaret Lehmann is the great woman beside the great man: wife, business partner, and champion of Peter Lehmann Wines and the Barossa.

Founder Peter Lehmann and then Chief Winemaker, Andrew Wigan rewrote the rulebooks of Barossa Semillon in the early 90s, eschewing oak and opting for an early-picked style that lent itself to ageing. The result is Margaret Semillon. It has youthful lemongrass aromas and citrus acidity that belie its age; and complexity you would expect from an aged white with a bountiful trophy cabinet. Safely sealed under screwcap, it will continue to develop for many years to come.

Andrew Wigan, Chief Winemaker

Winemaker's note	Over the five years that this wine has been ageing in our cellars it has developed an attractive pale straw colour with a green hue. The bouquet shows hints of lemon curd combined with lime rind and green melon aromas. The finish is crisp with a fantastic mouth-watering acidity that comes as a result of the unusually cool conditions experienced in the 2011 vintage.
Vintage	2011 had a cool, slow ripening period which has in turn produced superb white wines with delicacy and finesse.
Vineyards	A 100% Barossa Semillon sourced from 1936 plantings in Light Pass vineyards owned by Peter Scholz .
Winemaking	Fruit was picked early and fermented cold in stainless steel tanks to retain fruit delicacy. Following a two week fermentation period, the wine was then clarified and bottled before being cellared at the Peter Lehmann winery for five years prior to release.
Enjoy	An ideal accompaniment to Salmon, Pan-Seared Scallops or Chicken.
Analysis	Alc/vol 10.4% T.A 6.83g/L p/H 2.92 RS 6.3g/L

2010 MARGARET BAROSSA SEMILLON

The Masters wines are the top tier of Peter Lehmann's original classic Barossa varietals, made for the long haul and released with bottle age to capture their full potential. These wines are named after a person or event that has played an intrinsic role in the Peter Lehmann story.

Margaret Lehmann is the great woman beside the great man: wife, business partner, and champion of Peter Lehmann Wines and the Barossa.

Together, founder Peter Lehmann and Chief Winemaker, Andrew Wigan, rewrote the rulebooks of Barossa Semillon in the early 90s, eschewing oak and opting for an early-picked style that lent itself to ageing. The result is Margaret Semillon. Released after five years cellaring, it has youthful lemongrass aromas and citrus acidity that belie its age; and complexity you would expect from an aged white with a bountiful trophy cabinet. Safely sealed under screwcap, it will continue to develop for many years to come. Traditionally released as a five year old wine.

Andrew Wigan, Chief Winemaker

Winemaker's note	Over the 5 years that this wine has been bottle aging in our Tanunda cellars the wine has developed an attractive vibrant green/gold colour. The bouquet shows hints of lemon flower together with some waxy, honeyed development so typical of great, aged Semillon. The grapes were picked early in the season to retain more natural acidity and the palate is dry with a zesty finish. Margaret is our best Semillon of vintage and can be aged for a further 5-10 years if so desired, during which time it will become more golden in colour and richer and more complex in flavour.
Vintage	The 2010 vintage started with a short burst of heat in February. Following this, the weather settled down and was warm and stable throughout producing wines with excellent colour and flavour.
Vineyards	A 1923 planting owned by the Fiebigler Family at Vine Vale and a 1936 planting owned by the Scholz family at Light Pass subregion of the Barossa and two small blocks owned by the Mader family at Light Pass which were established in 1925 and 1965 respectively.
Winemaking	The grapes were picked early and fermented cold in stainless steel tanks to retain fruit delicacy. Following a two week fermentation period, the wine was clarified and bottled before being cellared at the winery for 5 years prior to release.
Enjoy	A superb accompaniment to pan seared scallops, baked Snapper or roast chicken or pork.
